

Home Supporter Policies

We expect Brickyard Battalion members to focus their energies on the love of the team and the game for all Indy Eleven and BYB related events. It is expected that all members will avoid bigoted remarks/actions (based on race, ethnicity, country of origin, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, or age), sectarianism, or instigating violence. During games and events, all members of the Brickyard Battalion and its affiliates are expected to refrain from activity, such as but not limited to:

- Doxing any game official, player, or coach (regardless of team), front office staff number, or fellow supporter.
- Committing any act or making any threatening, racist, homophobic, pornographic, antisemitic, or offensive statement towards individuals or groups of people at a minimum that could bring the BYB, an affiliate, or Indy Eleven into disrepute.
- Holding a sign, two-pole, or hanging a banner in promotion of a political candidate. This includes slogans, imagery, vulgarity, and inappropriate language or likeness.
- Intentionally violating stadium policy in a manner that results in a revocation of privileges for BYB's Operations.

In the event that a Brickyard Battalion member is in violation of the above code of conduct or the spirit in which the code of conduct was written, the Brickyard Battalion Board of Directors holds the power to withdraw and/or suspend the membership or privileges. Additionally, Indy Eleven has the right to remove, expel, or permanently suspend any member from any and all Indy Eleven games in accordance with its Fan Code of Conduct. All of those in Brickyard Battalion leadership positions and in privileged positions within the organization are held to a higher standard and all public comments are considered representation of BYB.
